

CREATING GROUP UNITY

For those who are coming with friends or know someone already down there, or those who seem to get along a lot better with some volunteers more than others, please make the effort to befriend everyone and include everyone so no one is left out—get in and make friends with the other volunteers and make efforts to unify the “old” group with your group; and when you’re the “old” group, reach out to the new group; it’ll make everything go smoother and plus you’ll come away with lifelong friends from this experience. Please go down with the intent of making friends with everyone. The experience is much more fun for everyone if everyone is included and befriended rather than excluded and left out. Please make up your mind now to help us out by doing this. You’ll all make lifetime friends down there this way!
